And I will add the extra JT concerns. I had trouble understanding them well enough to translate late last night, but will insert. Thanks.

Thanks, Simma. This briefing paper looks great! We had just two quick comments:

Almost made it by 1 pm – sorry we're a little late! Thanks for giving us a chance to take a look at this!

Attaching a redlined and clean version reflecting Carrie's input. If you can send me any quick concerns by 1, that would be great. Apologies again for the short turnaround!

Kavita and Matt,

I meant to send you this draft briefing paper first thing this morning, when I finished it. I apologize for not providing you any time to comment on it! I am waiting for Carrie's comments, and once I receive them I plan to circulate to attendees of our 4:30 meeting. I know you are in a meeting, so assume you won't have a chance to review, but if you take a quick look, let me know if you see any red flags. Thanks again for your help with the options!

In case you are only on phones, I am pasting below.
